Part III Statement of Program Service Accomplishments

Check if Schedule O contains a response to any question in this Part III [X]

1 Briefly describe the organization's mission: The Mission of International Justice Mission is to protect people from violent forces of injustice by securing rescue and restoration for victims and ensuring public justice systems work for the poor.

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? [] Yes [X] No

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? [] Yes [X] No

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.

4a (Code:) (Expenses $ 19,655,296. including grants of $ 603,402.) (Revenue $ 1,183.) International Justice Mission's field operations respond to a vast and devastating category of need: violent oppression of the poor.

Scholars estimate that more than 27 million men, women and children are held in modern-day slavery around the world. The United Nations estimates that human trafficking for sexual or labor slavery generates profits in excess of more than $32 billion annually for traffickers and slave owners, and UNICEF estimates that nearly two million children are exploited in the sex industry. The land rights of women are violated on a massive scale worldwide, leaving widows and other vulnerable women unable to care for themselves or their children. In many countries, perpetrators of this abuse against the poor face virtually no recourse, 4b (Code:) (Expenses $ 6,329,427. including grants of $ 188,868.) (Revenue $ 129,953.) Building a movement: Alongside individual casework, IJM seeks to mobilize a movement of justice-seekers around the world.

In the tradition of abolitionist William Wilberforce and transformational leaders like Mother Theresa and Martin Luther King, Jr, IJM's work is founded on the Christian call to justice articulated in the Bible: "Seek justice, protect the oppressed, defend the orphan, plead for the widow" (Isaiah 1:17). IJM's mobilization division seeks to serve as a catalyst for change by empowering faith communities and others of good will to stand together as committed advocates for these victims of violent oppression. With its Institute for Biblical Justice, IJM equips faith-based leaders and influencers with ideological 4c (Code:) (Expenses $ including grants of $) (Revenue $)

4d Other program services (Describe in Schedule O.) (Expenses $ including grants of $) (Revenue $) 4e Total program service expenses 25,984,723.

International Justice Mission exists to protect people from violent forces of injustice and to ensure that public justice systems effectively and sustainably protect the poor. In pursuit of this mission, IJM conducts individual casework on behalf of impoverished victims of violent abuse in Central America, South America, Southeast Asia, South Asia and Sub-Saharan Africa. This casework both ensures relief for individual victims of abuse and informs IJM's strategies for pursuing transformational change of public justice systems.

Each IJM field office addresses specific forms of oppression that impact the poor in the geographic region. In the majority of IJM's field offices in Africa, IJM investigators, attorneys and aftercare staff work on behalf of victims of illegal, predatory land seizures (primarily widows and orphans) and child victims of sexual violence.

One Africa field office (Nairobi, Kenya) also specializes in casework on behalf of victims of police abuse of power.

In South Asia, IJM combats two forms of modern-day slavery: sex trafficking and forced labor. In Southeast Asia, IJM's casework focus is sex trafficking and other forms of sexual violence. IJM teams bring rescue to victims of these crimes, partner with excellent aftercare providers to ensure survivors are supported as they heal, and have achieved significant success in securing convictions for perpetrators of these crimes. One field office in Southeast Asia (Chiang Mai, Thailand) conducts casework to ensure that members of hill tribe ethnic minority groups can access the citizenship and attendant benefits to which they are entitled. The goal of this citizenship casework is to decrease vulnerability to sex trafficking and other forms of violent oppression.

In South and Central America, IJM combats sexual violence against children - a pervasive category of crime that overwhelmingly victimizes impoverished children and women. IJM's investigative and legal teams partner with local authorities to ensure that perpetrators are arrested, charged and convicted for these violent acts; IJM social workers provide long-term support to victims of the crime.

IJM uses its unique knowledge of systemic gaps, weaknesses and deficiencies gained through individual casework to pursue structural transformation that ensures the poor are effectively and sustainably served by the public justice systems upon which they must rely for protection.

Expense allocation:

When possible, IJM records expenses directly to the field offices to which they relate; for program expenses not directly allocated to a specific region, IJM allocates expenses based on the percentage of offices located in that region over the total number of offices.

Additionally, IJM allocates bank fees and transfer fees as they relate to maintaining bank accounts for each office as well as transfer fees associated with the movement of funds to field offices. The allocation used for bank fees is also weighted based on the number of field offices in each region. Finally, IJM allocates fundraising expenses to each region based on the budget for that region as a percentage of the total IJM budget.

Part I, Line 1a: International Justice Mission provides companion travel for expatriates as part of the Organization's Staff Care plan. There are two specific instances where companion travel is allowed. These are annual required furlough travel and required attendance at an annual event held by the organization. All travel is subject to the procurement policy of the organization. All companion travel is treated as taxable income to the employee.

The organization has a tax equalization program for its expatriate staff.

This program equalizes the tax liability of the staff in order to simulate a tax liability equal to what they would pay if they were earning their income at our Head Quarters office in Washington, DC. Any taxes paid on behalf of an employee participating in the tax equalization program are treated as taxable income to that employee.

Schedule L, Part II

In the countries where IJM works, housing leases sometimes require a full year's rent paid in advance or a security deposit equivalent to 12 months. This is an extreme circumstance which is unduly burdensome to an employee that is being relocated to work in a foreign country. Therefore, IJM has a policy that the organization can provide an advance to the employee for the amount of this extraordinary cost that exceeds two month's rent. The employee then pays IJM back monthly as rental payments become due or the security deposit within 45 days of termination of the rental agreement. Each expatriate who requests this assistance signs an agreement stating that they are responsible to pay back these funds, even if the landlord does not refund the deposit upon the termination of the lease.

injustice by securing rescue and restoration for victims and ensuring public justice systems work for the poor.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4a, Program Service Accomplishments:

despite clear laws against the violations. The rule of law should offer protection to vulnerable people, but according to a 2007 United Nations report, more than 4 billion people live outside the protection of the law. International Justice Mission is addressing this crisis by ensuring access to rule of law for the poor through the provision of individual casework services.

IJM lawyers, investigators and aftercare professionals work with local officials in 12 countries in Africa, Latin America and South and Southeast Asia to ensure immediate victim rescue and aftercare, to prosecute perpetrators and to promote functioning public justice systems.

IJM individual casework: IJM investigators, lawyers and social workers intervene in individual cases of abuse in partnership with state and local authorities. IJM takes on cases of slavery, sex trafficking, police brutality/illegal detention, sexual violence, citizenship violations and illegal property seizure. By moving individual cases of abuse through the justice system from the investigative stage to the prosecutorial stage, IJM determines the specific source of corruption, lack of resources, or lack of good will in the system denying victims the protection of their rights.

IJM pursues four primary beneficiary outcomes:

Victim relief - IJM's first priority in its casework is immediate relief for the victim from the abuse being committed.

Perpetrator accountability - IJM seeks to hold perpetrators accountable for the abuse in their local justice systems.

Victim aftercare - IJM social work staff and trusted local aftercare partners ensure that victims of oppression are equipped to rebuild their lives and respond to the complex emotional and physical needs that are often the result of abuse.

Structural transformation - in addition to individual casework, IJM seeks to prevent abuse from being committed against those vulnerable to violent oppression by strengthening the public justice systems upon which the poor must rely for protection. IJM pursues structural transformation through capacity-building activities, including training police, healthcare professionals, government officials and other local authorities; building social demand for robust law enforcement and responsive judicial systems; providing community education to reduce vulnerability; and advocating with local governments on behalf of the poor.

In 2012, IJM and IJM-trained partners brought tangible relief to 2,409 citizenship violations, illegal detention and illegal property seizure

- and provided aftercare services or trainings for thousands more. Each victory represents the tenacious work of IJM's frontline team of attorneys, social workers and investigators - work that continues long-term as former victims heal and rebuild their lives with the assistance of IJM aftercare and as IJM attorneys pursue justice in court processes that can take years.

In 2012 IJM and IJM-trained partners worked with local authorities to bring freedom to 1,104 forced labor slaves, and IJM assisted local authorities to rescue 311 victims of sex trafficking. IJM restored property to 358 impoverished people, the vast majority of whom were widows and orphans. IJM ensured that 470 Hill Tribe members were granted the Thai citizenship to which they are entitled - reducing vulnerability to trafficking and other forms of violent oppression. IJM legal teams worked alongside local law enforcement to ensure the arrest of 313 accused perpetrators of violence against the poor, a total of 132 perpetrators were convicted of their crimes - men and women who believed they could act with impunity simply because of their victims' poverty. IJM conducted police trainings and community- and church-based trainings throughout the developing world, equipping vulnerable people, community leaders, and law enforcement with the knowledge they need to protect themselves and their communities from violent oppression.

These figures encompass IJM's casework in 16 field offices. They do not include the results of two casework alliance partnership offices in South America.

foundations for combatting injustice. IJM's Church Mobilization team helps faith communities engage in justice work, both in local communities and globally, and hosts conferences and course opportunities with strategic institutions. IJM Student Mobilization supports a growing "justice generation" of students serving as new leaders in the fight for international human rights. Working with college campus chapters and high schools across the U.S., IJM's programs empower students to leverage their talents and energy to the anti-slavery movement.

In addition to IJM's direct work with the Christian church, IJM Justice

Campaigns engage anti-slavery advocates in supporting U.S. government policies that will help end modern-day slavery and ensure that public justice systems actually protect the poor. IJM has provided thousands of individuals and groups with concrete tools for sharing about the reality of slavery and mobilizing policymakers to end it.

In IJM's field offices around the world, community relations teams work within their own cities to spread information on legal rights and help the poor pursue justice through police and local courts. This approach aids the individual while building social demand to prevent future abuse. In places like India and the Philippines, local churches and media are taking hold of the vision and empowering communities to seek justice in new and exciting ways.

By raising awareness of critical justice issues, IJM brings allies from all walks of life into the struggle to end slavery and protect the poor from violent oppression. IJM's work has been featured by outlets such as Forbes Magazine, The Washington Post, The Times of India, The Guardian, The New York Times, The New Yorker, Foreign Affairs, "The Today Show," "The Opera Winfrey Show," "Dateline NBC," MSNBC, CNN, BBC World News and National Public Radio, among many others.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, line 11: First, information is gathered by the organization. Then, the Director of Accounting reviews and compiles all of the information and submits the information to tax preparers (at McGladrey LLP). The VP of Finance reviews the draft of the form 990 that has been prepared by McGladrey LLP, and suggests corrections/modifications as needed. After the final draft of the form 990 is prepared, the COO of the organization and the Chair of the Finance and Audit Committee of the board review it in turn; after which point, the board of directors is notified that the final 990 is available on our intranet for their review. Finally, McGladrey LLP prepares and remits the final 990 to the IRS.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c: The conflict of interest policy is detailed as an appendix to the IJM Employee Manual and specifically provides guidance on to whom to communicate conflicts that arise. in or know about any conflicts of interest. IJM requires Board members to affirm adherence to the policy.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15: Executive Compensation:

The Board of Directors (the "Board") has the responsibility for overseeing IJM's executive compensation program. The Board recognizes that in order for IJM to achieve its ambitious strategic goals, IJM must be able to attract, retain and reward qualified executives who will be able to operate effectively in a challenging, complex environment.

Chief Executive Officer:

The Board independently determines the salary and benefits for the Chief Executive Officer. The Vice President of Human Resources provides the Board with competitive market salary data obtained from external compensation surveys. Based on the information presented, the Board discusses the Chief Executive Officer's performance, the overall performance of IJM, and the competitive market. The Board independently makes compensation decisions in an executive session, without the Chief Executive Officer present.

Senior Executives (Vice President Level and Above):

The Board has delegated to the Chief Executive Officer the authority to determine the salary and benefits for all subordinate executives and employees. The Chief Executive Officer has in turn delegated to the Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer the authority to determine the salary and benefits for all subordinate executives and employees. The Chief Executive Officer determines the salary and benefits for the Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer and Executive Vice President of Global Marketing & Mobilization in consultation with the Vice President of Human Resources. The Vice President of Human Resources provides competitive market salary data obtained from external compensation surveys, and makes recommendations based on input obtained from each senior executive's direct manager.

Offices. Third Country Nationals are citizens of neither the U.S. nor the country in which they are working, and Local National staff members live in, work in and are citizens of the country in which our office is located. These two types of employees are not subject to U.S. Income taxes and therefore are not reported on IRS Form W-3. The number in part I line 5 (194) relates to the number of employees for whom IJM submitted W-2 forms to the IRS and therefore includes U.S. staff who earned any income from IJM throughout the year, not just the number of staff at year end.
